SEMI-ANNUAL BOOK FAIR,

Commencing Monday, March 20, 1876.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO BOOKSELLERS.

WE, the undersigned, PUBLISHERS, and CONTRIBUTORS to the SPRING BOOK FAIR, to be held by Messrs. GEO. A. LEAVITT & CO., commencing March 20, 1876, would earnestly impress upon the Booksellers of the country, the importance of attending this Fair. Among the measures of Trade reform instituted by the American Book Trade Association, the Book Fair is regarded as one of the most important.

The Publishers are doing their best to establish the Fair on a permanent basis, incurring great expense to have their goods represented, and it remains for Buyers in all sections of the country to prove their interest in it, by their presence and co-operation. IF THEY FAIL TO DO THIS, THE FAIR WILL NOT SUCCEED, and an important measure in trade reform will fall to the ground.

Life, Letters, and Journals of George Ticknor.

With a Heliotype Portrait of Mr. Ticknor in early manhood, a fine Steel Portrait of him in his ripe age, and a Heliotype of his Library. 2 vols., 8*vo*, $6.

From the New-York Evening Post.

"Mr. Ticknor lived from the year 1790 to the year 1871—eighty years, including the most active period of the nineteenth century. He was enabled by culture and fortune to mingle in nearly all of its best society, both at home and in Europe, and he has preserved for us, in his journals and letters, a fresh and faithful impression of the many eminent men and women whom it was his good lot to know. We have only to mention a few of the names which appear in these pages, as the correspondents, friends, or acquaintances of Mr. Ticknor, to give the reader a glimpse of the rich treat that is in store for him. Jefferson, Roscoe, Dr. Parr, Sir Humphrey Davy, Lord Byron, Mrs. Siddons, Goethe, Von Schlegel, Humboldt, Madame De Stael, Lafayette, Talleyrand, the Bonapartes, Sir Walter Scott, Southey, Constant, Chateaubriand, Bunsen, Niebuhr, Sir James Mackintosh, Brougham, Lord Holland, Mrs. Grant, Mrs. Fletcher, Wilberforce, Godwin, Manzoni, Thorwaldsen, Sismondi, Lamartine, Thierry, Hallam, Wordsworth, Daniel Webster, the Adamses, Everett, Greenough, Macaulay, Prescott, Agassiz, Cogswell, are among the conspicuous figures which appear in his pages. In fact, scarcely a name rises above the horizon of the early part of this century with which Mr. Ticknor is not happily in some way connected. It is needless for us to say that Mr. Hillard has made the best use of his rich and interesting materials."

Mr. Fiske's New Book:

THE UNSEEN WORLD,

And other Essays. By JOHN FISKE, author of "Myths and Myth-Makers," "Outlines of Cosmic Philosophy," etc. 1 vol., 12mo, $2.

This is a book of rich variety and rare thoughtfulness. It discusses topics of great importance in philosophy, theology, science, history, art, literature, and music, and contains the fruits of wide reading, profound study, and trained common sense.

BOOKSELLERS' EXCHANGE AND CLEARING-HOUSE,

GEO. A. LEAVITT & CO., Managers, Clinton Hall, Astor Place, New-York.

American Book Trade Association.

SEMI-ANNUAL BOOK FAIR,

Monday, March 20, 1876.

By direction of the Committee, the regular semi-annual "Book Fair" will be held, commencing Monday, March 20, and continue until Thursday night, during which time the entire lists of all the Publishers represented will be offered by the Managers on a CREDIT OF FOUR AND SIX MONTHS.

After the close of the Fair, on the next day (March 24), a Sale by Auction will be made, comprising Stereotype Plates, Remainders, Balances of Editions, Clearance Stock, Books not offered at the Fair or intended to be again Printed, etc., etc.

A Printed Catalogue of the Books to be sold by Auction shall be issued by the Managers, at least two weeks before the Fair, and no Books that are included in the Catalogue shall be offered or exposed for sale at the Fair.

TERMS OF SALE.

On all purchases amounting in the aggregate to $1000 and upward, four and six months' credit; on purchases less than $1000, and more than $300, four months' credit; and purchases less than $300, cash without discount.

Approved indorsed notes payable in the City of New-York, to be dated on the first day of sale, drawn to the order of the indorser, and satisfactory to the Managers, will be required. Bills must be settled before the delivery of goods, and within fifteen days after the sale.

All bills not settled within twenty days from the last day of the sale shall lose the credit to which the purchaser would be otherwise entitled, and such bills will be payable in cash, without discount; this rule will be strictly enforced, in order to facilitate prompt settlements by buyers.

Publishers agree to hold themselves responsible to purchasers for supplying the books sold; and if at the end of thirty days from the close of the sale any books ordered shall not have been delivered—being out of print—buyers may, at their option, decline to receive them, and the adjusted difference credited to their account by the Managers; or they may order from the Publishers' list, other books to the amount short, at same special rate as sold at the "Fair."

In order to promote the convenience of buyers in payments, notes may be made payable at home banks, adding to notes one quarter of one per cent ($2.50 per $1000) for collection and exchange.

Buyers paying cash for their purchases, shall be entitled to a discount at the rate of ten per cent per annum, if paid within twenty days from the close of the Fair.

"Committee on Book Fair," appointed by the American Book Trade Association:

WM. H. APPLETON, New-York, Chairman.
ISAAC E. SHELDON, New-York, Secretary.

NOTES IN SEASON.

AN interesting and timely volume will be issued at once by Macmillan & Co., "Floral Decorations for Dwelling-houses," based on a new English book by Miss Annie Hazard, of The Garden periodical, but edited by an American expert into conformity with our climate and flora. It will make a neat 16mo of 180 pages, with many illustrations. One of the notable features is a table of an arrangement of flowers for different purposes for each month in the year.

THE Harpers publish this week a most interesting set of books. Hon. David A. Wells' "Robinson Crusoe's Money" will attract very wide attention just now, for it presents under the guise of a statement of the financial history of Robinson Crusoe's island family, striking illustrations of the arguments adduced by hard-money advocates against the policy of inflation. Nast's illustrations are very bright. Hon. S. S. Cox's book, "Why we Laugh," is a collection of clever stories, chiefly of legislative humor, with some pleasant talk about humor in general and its several varieties. Rev. W. M. Baker's novel of "Carter Quarterman" promises to be one of the hits of the season, with its pictures of border life and religious characterization. There are several other books on the week's list.

THE Carters have in preparation by Miss Joanna H. Mathews, author of the famous "Bessie Books," another of her delightful stories for girls, in which some of the old heroines appear, entitled "Little Friends at Glenwood," which will form the first volume of a new series to be called "Haps and Mishaps."

ROBERTS BROTHERS will issue early in the month a new volume by Hon. Theophilus Parsons, giving a general view of the "Outlines of the Religion and Philosophy of Swedenborg." The cheaper edition of Morris' translation of the Æneid is deferred to same time. An edition in four volumes of Walter Savage Landor's "Imaginary Conversations" is in advanced preparation.

MANY will rejoice to learn that Osgood & Co. will shortly issue a new book by Mrs. Whitney, called "Sights and Insights." It is a novel of New-England life, with much introduction of European scenes. This is the most elaborate work of fiction of its author, being nearly half as long again as the longest of her other stories.

ONE of the most important of the Appletons, publications, immediately forthcoming, is Dr. Richardson's work on "The Diseases of Modern Life," showing to what extent they are due to causes arising from the occupations and habits of life, to overwork and over-indulgence, and how far they may be prevented by moderate carefulness. The Herschel Memoirs, also nearly ready, will be a very bright book, attracting general attention for its notices of leading Englishmen. A handbook of "The Progress of Science," by Miss A. B. Buckley, Sir Charles Lyell's private secretary, is a clear and interesting presentation, in brief compass, of scientific history. "The Primer of English Literature," by Rev. Stopford Brooke, is also well advanced.

JAMES MILLER has a work in press which will no doubt awaken very great interest, the "Letters from Elizabeth Barrett Browning and the Author of 'Orion;' with Recollections of Contemporaries by R. H. Horne."

E. J. HALE & SON will shortly make a notable addition to the already somewhat extensive Moody and Sankey literature. They have in press a new life of the Evangelists, written by a Pennsylvania editor, whose fitness for his task is indorsed by the father of Mr. Sankey, the Hon. David Sankey, in a letter to the publishers. The book is entitled, "Moody and Sankey: an authentic Account of their Lives and Services, by Frank S. Reader, of New-Brighton, Pa."

A. D. F. RANDOLPH & Co. have a little book in press, "Hints on Bible-Marking," by Mrs. Stephen Menzies, with a prefatory note by Mr. Moody.

W. J. WIDDLETON has just published Poe's poems complete, in the handy little "Diamond edition," with the memoir by Mr. W. F. Gill vindicating his good name.

YALE College is to form the topic of the next paper in the American College series in Scribner's Monthly.

THERE is significance, says the Tribune, in the increase of memoirs of noted engineers and histories of great industrial enterprises. The great "Midland Railway" of England is the subject of a special work descriptive of its rise and progress, forthcoming in London from the pen of Frederick S. Williams, author of "Our Iron Roads."

LOUIS MEYER has made quite a hit with two songs he has just issued—"Smile for me your Sweetest Smile," and "Pat Dolan," both by Ralph Roland.

On this side of the Atlantic Mr. Longfellow has for many years been the best known and most read of American poets; and his popularity is of the right kind and rightly and fairly won. He has not stooped to catch attention by artifice, nor striven to force it by violence. His works have faced the test of parody and burlesque (which in these days is almost the common lot of writings of any mark), and have come off unharmed.—Saturday Review.

A new volume by Lewis Carroll, author of "Alice's Adventures in Wonderland," is promised; it will be a story in verse, with more about the Jabberwock and other acquaintances of the adventuresome Alice.

The Publishers' Weekly.

MARCH 4, 1876.

PUBLISHERS are requested to furnish title-page proofs and advance information of books forthcoming, both for entry in the lists and for descriptive mention. An early copy of each book published should be forwarded, to insure correctness in the final entry and for notice in "Books Received."

The trade are invited to send "Communications" to the editor on any topic of interest to the trade, and as to which an interchange of opinion is desirable. Also, matter for "Notes and Queries." Notes from librarians will also be gratefully received.

In case of business changes, notification or card should be immediately sent to this office for entry under "Business Notes." New catalogues issued will also be mentioned when forwarded.

THE PRIZE QUESTION IN AGRICULTURE.

THE interest in the prize questions seems rather to increase than abate as more are put before the trade, and the disappointed candidates for bibliographical laurels manifest a wholesome desire to "try, try again." One of the competitors for Prize No. 1 sends us a second list, and writes, "I intend to answer all questions issued by you, even if you give a hundred, as I think it a very healthful exercise for the mind." Another says, "Your prize questions have succeeded in awaking a general interest among the book-clerks, and, for one, I feel it has resulted in benefiting those who have taken part."

Although agriculture is more narrow a specialty than biography, and of less general interest, no less than 21 lists have been submitted, mentioning 252 titles, and we have already in hand nearly as many in answer to Prize Question No. 3. Agriculture was selected as the field for No. 2, as Horticulture is for No. 4, because, though of limited interest, the subjects are especially timely, since it is now that booksellers lay in their stocks of this class of books.

The successful list is that of Mr. D. W. Mason, with A. Williams & Co., Boston, whose count is 118.

PRIZE LIST (No. 2) IN AGRICULTURE.

1. Allen, R. L. and L. F., New American Farm Book, 12°, $2.50 ..... Orange Judd Co. 19
2. Waring, George E., Jr., Elements of Agriculture, 12°, $1 ..... Same. 10
3. Johnson, S. W., How Crops Grow, 12°, $2 ... Same. 14
4. Harris, J., On the Pig, 12°, $1.50 ..... Same. 8
5. Johnson, S. W., How Crops Feed, 12°, $2 ... Same. 12
6. Allen, L. F., American Cattle, 12°, $2.50 .... Same. 9
7. Thomas, J. J., Farm Implements and Machinery, 12°, $1.50 ..... Same. 17
8. Waring, George E., Jr., Draining for Profit and Health, etc., 12°, $1.50 ..... Same. 6
9. Flint, C. L., Milch Cows and Dairy Farming, 12°, $2 ..... Gill. 6
10. Dadd, G. H., Am. Cattle Doctor, 12°, $1.50. O. Judd Co. 8
11. Dana, S. L., Muck Manual for Farmers, 12°, $1.25. Same. 2
12. Johnston, J. F. W., Agricultural Chemistry, 12°, $1.75 ..... Same. 7

118

The list of Mr. W. S. Parker, with St. Louis Book and News Company, was second, counting 113; that of Mr. Charles E. Butler, of J. B. Lippincott & Co., winner of the prize for No. 1, was third, counting 107. A valuable list was that of Mr. Charles S. Hobson, with Orange Judd Co. The latter omitted the sample title given with the question, Thomas' "Farm Implements," which most seem to have felt called upon to include; for this reason, we shall usually omit sample titles with questions hereafter. Otherwise, his list would have been close upon the first, and, as it is the result of an actual knowledge of the total number of copies sold, we give it also. It is defined by Mr. Hobson as a list of books that "have had the largest sale—books thoroughly practical, meeting with a steady and undiminished sale, month in and month out."

LIST BY CHARLES S. HOBSON,

With Orange Judd Co.

1. Allen, R. L. and L. F., New American Farm Book, 12°, $2.50 ..... Orange Judd Co. 19

101

The lowest count in any list was 31. Curiously, the competitor who ranked lowest sent a list of twenty-five titles, of which we could take only the first twelve. The second twelve counted more than three times as many as the first.

The following is the representative list by popular vote:

LIST BY POPULAR VOTE.

Allen's New Am. Farm Book	19
Thomas' Farm Implements	17
Johnson's How Crops Grow	14
— How Crops Feed	12
Waring's Elements of Agriculture	10
Allen's American Cattle	9
Dadd's American Cattle Doctor	8
Harris, On the Pig	8
Johnston's Agricultural Chemistry	7
Flint's Milch Cows	6
Loudon's Encyc. of Agriculture	6
Randall's Practical Shepherd	6
Todd's Young Farmer's Manual	6
Waring's Draining for Profit	6
Barry's Fruit Garden	5
Bommer's Manure Making	5
Fuller's Small Fruit Culturist	5
Quinby's Bee-Keeping	5
Randall's Sheep Husbandry	5
Wright's Practical Poultry-Keeper	5

The following gives the count from 4 down to 2:

4. Downing's Fruit and Fruit Trees of Am.; Greeley's What I Know about Farming; Guenon's Milch Cows; Liebig's Chemistry Applied to Agric.

3. Flint's Grasses and Forage Plants; Harris' Injurious Insects; Johnson's Farmer's Encyclop.; Langstroth's Bee; Ten Acres Enough; Waring's Handy Book of Husbandry; Youatt and Martin's Cattle.

2. Armstrong's Agriculture; Brill's Farm Gardening; Buel's Farmer's Companion; Dana's Muck Manual; Gardner's Farmer's Dict.; Harney's Barns, etc.; Jacques' Garden, Farm, etc.; Lewis' Poultry Book; Liebig's Letters on Mod. Agric.; Mechi's Profitable Farming; Saunders' Domestic Poultry; Thomas' Am. Fruit Culturist; White's Gardening for the South.

The remaining titles counting only one, each competitor is enabled to estimate the standing of his list.

PRIZE QUESTION No. 4.

Which are the most salable works on Horticulture?

Give twelve titles in the following order, as usual: Author, title proper, size, price, publisher.

Give only general works on gardening and treatises (general or special) on cultivating flowers or vegetables. Grape and fruit culture are to form the subject of a special prize question hereafter.

RULES FOR COMPETITORS.

1. The object of the questions is to elicit answers as to which books and editions have, independent of local or ephemeral interest, become standard or popular works in the American market, hence safe stock for investment.

2. A prize of $5 will be awarded for that answer which includes the greatest number of works on which competitors generally agree, or which, in the judgment of the editor, may otherwise be most fairly representative.

3. Every subscriber and every employee of a subscriber individually are entitled to compete.

4. The answers shall consist of a list of works on a given topic. The short title is sufficient, but number of volumes, size, price, and name of publisher must be invariably given.

5. The titles should be arranged and numbered according to the popularity each work holds in the opinion of the competitor.

6. The titles must be written legibly with ink, on one side of the paper only, foolscap preferred, each title in separate paragraph, with space between titles for cutting through with scissors.

7. The list must not contain a greater number of titles than is demanded in the question. Where there are various editions of a work, only the preferred edition should be given.

8. Each list must be headed by the number of the Prize Question, and signed with full address of competitor.

9. If several competitors should present lists of equal claim to the prize, it shall be awarded by lot.

10. The name of the successful competitor shall be published with his list, and the amount of the prize remitted immediately after publication.

11. The result of the answers will be published four weeks from publication of the question.

12. All communications should be addressed, Editor PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, P. O. Box 4295, New-York.

These rules are subject to amendment whenever the Editor finds it expedient.

THE trade will already have noted the card to booksellers issued by the managers of the Trade Fair over the signatures of many prominent houses, who are to contribute to the sale this spring. The names of those houses, which include most of the leading publishers in New-York, Philadelphia, and Boston, is sufficient assurance that the sale will be well worth the attention and attendance of local buyers, and the publishing trade, or those desirous of entering the publishing business, will of course be attracted by the great sale of plates by Messrs. Osgood & Co., which we notice more fully elsewhere. In addition to this sale, the most important ever held in this country, the remainder sale in connection with the Fair itself will comprise contributions of interesting books from Messrs. Roberts Brothers, and others. We trust that the attendance at this spring Fair may be large, and buyers wisely enterprising; and, while we can not say that the ill-success of the spring sale, under the present circumstances of trade and the trade, would be further proof of the unwisdom of the new system, yet a successful fair this spring would do very much to assure the plan which the trade have so long desired.

WE are glad to note that the purchaser of the right to print and circulate the official catalogue of the Centennial Exhibition has contracted with the Riverside Press for the manufacture of the catalogue, of which it is expected a million copies will be required. This is an immense undertaking, but in such hands it is sure to be a creditable specimen of American book-manufacture. But there is one drawback in this whole business: the purchaser of this right claims the right to prohibit catalogues of special departments or individual exhibits, so that neither the general trade nor individual publishers can circulate a catalogue on the grounds. The French, German, and Dutch book trades have already prepared general catalogues: we wonder what they will say to this sort of monopoly to which we have invited them.

OUR readers will note in this number an important feature commenced in our first issue of last month—the index to advertisers and books advertised during the preceding month. This will be found not only useful for its immediate purpose in looking up announcements in the WEEKLY, but also as a monthly order-list in going over a stock, especially useful in connection with the jobbing trade. Advertisers will note that the new feature, without further charge to them, adds much to the value of their advertisements, by keeping them alive through the month, and we may say through the year. This monthly list will be made a regular feature, if it prove acceptable to the trade, in the first issue of each month.

WE print in this number another new feature connected with our advertising columns. This is an order-list of books in specialties, such as will compensate for special exertion at this time on the part of the trade. The Centennial page will be alternated every other week with a similar list of books on Finance and Political Economy, and we advise dealers to make liberal use of the information thus kept before them, to keep up full stocks in these specialties, and thus "make hay while the sun shines,"

THE next number of the WEEKLY will be issued in connection with the Fair, and will be our sixth regular spring announcement number. This will be largely referred to by booksellers and book-buyers all through the spring, which makes it especially desirable to advertisers. Their favors should be handed in as early as possible, and with them we shall be glad of any information for our reading-matter columns.

WE take pleasure in commending to the courteous attention of the stationery trade, Mr. James G. Kent, who will hereafter represent the WEEKLY in that department. Having an assured circulation of long standing among the largest stationery buyers in the United States, namely, the booksellers, the WEEKLY offers itself as an especially valuable medium for the advertisements of manufacturing and jobbing stationers, and we intend to make this department in our reading-matter columns as important to this branch of the trade as the rest is to the book trade proper.

GREAT SALE OF PLATES.

MESSRS. JAMES R. OSGOOD & CO. in this number of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY announce the sale by auction, immediately after the book fair, of a very important list of plates, engravings, and remainders of editions. The list comprises between four hundred and five hundred volumes, and includes the works of Dickens, Thackeray, Miss Thackeray, Charles Reade, De Quincy, Jules Verne, Scott, "The Country Parson," Gail Hamilton, Theodore Winthrop, Charles and Henry Kingsley, Robertson's sermons and life, Jane Austen, Osgood's library of novels, and scores of eminent names besides. This list contains many of the standard editions of foreign authors in Osgood & Co.'s catalogue, and a large proportion of their popular juveniles; yet, though it is so long, it numbers not more than one third of the volumes in their catalogue. Some publishers take pride in never letting go their hold on any book they have published. Evidently Messrs. Osgood & Co.'s pride does not take this course, and they have no scruples against disposing of the plates of highly valuable works, if for one reason or another such sale commends itself to their good judgment. We understand that they propose to work more hereafter in the direction in which they have gained their widest popularity, as publishers of the best type of American literature, the worthiest poetry in the English language, and the most acceptable belles lettres productions of the century. The heliotype process, of which Messrs. Osgood & Co. hold the control in this country, has had so great success and proved its applicability to so wide a range of artistic and literary publication, as to become an important feature of the business of this house.

We need not suggest to publishers, especially to those who have but few books and are desirous of making helpful additions to their catalogues, how favorable an opportunity is offered in this sale. Any one experienced in the book business can see at a glance how excellent a list it is, and how desirable to select from. It will be surprising if even the "hard times" shall prevent a vigorous competition for these plates.

COMMUNICATIONS.

THE NEW-ENGLAND BOOKSELLERS' ASSOCIATION.

BOSTON, Feb. 28, 1876.

To the Editor of the Publishers' Weekly:

In the report of the meeting of the New-England Booksellers' Association in your journal of the 26th, the sentence, "The committee in this case had prepared a circular, and sent it to every publisher in the United States, requesting them to refuse to sell to said party," is entirely a mistake, and has no reference to "said party," but the committee had decided upon a plan of action by which to ascertain whether there was sufficient vitality in all the associations to stop underselling in Boston, and if successful in stopping it here, they proposed to go a little further and see if there was power enough to cut off supplies in New-York, from a house in that city, which tells the undersellers of New-England that it will furnish them all the books they want, and they can sell at what price they please. But the going into bankruptcy of the Boston house disarranged the plan of operation, and the committee are waiting for a few weeks to give the New-York house time to enter a similar record.

J. L. HAMMETT,
Chairman Sub-Com. N. E. B. S. A.

EXPLANATORY.

BOSTON, February 22, 1876.

To the Editor of the Publishers' Weekly.

In your issue of January 19th, we notice Mr. Watson's communication in regard to our house. The facts in the case are that when the books were sold to Mr. Burton, we supposed we were dealing with a bookseller, for the reason that the letter was handed over to us by William H. Hill, a former bookseller, with the statement that he had sold Mr. B. for several years, and that he was reliable. The first intimation we had that they were for a Sunday-school library was a letter from Mr. Watson. We have held strictly to the 20 per cent rule in dealing with libraries.

Yours respectfully,
HENRY A. YOUNG & CO.

AN APPROVAL.

INDIANAPOLIS, February 21, 1876.

To the Editor of the Publishers' Weekly:

In the WEEKLY of February 19th, W. H. Watson, of Aurora, Ill., has struck the keynote for exposing the "undercutters"—he naues the party. If Henry A. Young & Co., or any publisher, violates the rule, let it be known, that we, as buyers, may remember them.

Truly, YOHN & PORTER.

ANOTHER CHARGE.

WATERBURY, CONN., February 21, 1876.

To the Editor of the Publishers' Weekly:

Et tu, Brute! I saw a letter to-day containing a list of books, with the prices at which Anson D. F. Randolph & Co. offered to supply them. They were generally, I believe, at 20 per cent; but Knight's "England" was offered at about 30 per cent, or $17.50, net, for the $25 edition. Was this right? I can not, or at least do not, buy Randolph's own books quite so good as above. I get only 30 per cent. Received some of his books this day at this rate. WILLIAM PATTON.

P.S.—If A. D. F. R. & Co. break prices, we may as well "give it up" at once without further worry. The party, a clergyman, got even better terms than above from another house. But when Randolph caved, I did not care about examining the other bid, and do not remember the name of the "underseller," a publishing house though it is.

[In pursuance of our general endeavor to have a full explanation of all charges, when a house is within reach, we sent the above letter to Mr. Randolph for reply, and have received the following.—ED.]

NEW-YORK, Feb. 26, 1876.

To the Editor of the Publishers' Weekly:

On the 15th inst. we received from a clergyman in Connecticut a letter asking the price of the following books, and also if we made a discount to clergymen. We affixed the prices, as below, to his list:

Smith's History of the World, 3 vols., $10.50.
Rawlinson's Herodotus, 4 vols. (Am. ed.), $10.
Wilkinson's Popular Account of the Ancient Egyptians, 2 vols., $3.50.
Wordsworth's Greece, 1 vol., $10.50.
Arnold's Rome (Am. ed.), 1 vol., $3.
White's Eighteen Christian Centuries, $2.
Rawlinson's Five Great Monarchies, 3 vols., $15.

On the above we wrote him there would be a discount of 20 per cent from the prices annexed.

He also inquired the price of Knight's History of England, 8 vols. This we wrote him we would furnish him for $17.50 net, the published price being $25.

Why did we make this distinction? For the reason that this last book, like Chambers' Encyclopedia, belongs to a class of English books that are sold at forty and ten, or a half off, to the trade, and have no fixed retail price. The nominal retail price of Chambers' is $40—we never pretend to ask more than $30 for it, for we have bought it at $20. We presume that Knight can be bought at retail for $18 or $20, in any store in New-York, while in Boston it has been placarded at $15. Your correspondent can buy a single copy at $13.50; if he will take five copies we think he will have no difficulty in getting it at $12.50 a set. You will notice that among the books which we offered at 20 per cent are two English books that have a fixed retail price.

It will be seen, we think, that your correspondent has not dealt quite fairly with us in his statement; and, perhaps, if he had addressed his note to us he might have been satisfied with this reply. We beg to assure him that we have not "caved," and do not propose to do so, although within the present month we have probably lost two library orders, one because a country dealer offered 25 per cent discount, and another because the buyer, an old personal friend, wanted us to give him a third off. As a matter of course we declined, and named 20 per cent as our best terms, at the same time stating our belief that he would doubtless find some one who would take his order on better terms. We made this statement to him because a good number of the country dealers are not members of the Association, are not bound by its rules, and are quite indifferent to its operations until they desire "protection," or think they can make a point against those who have spent their time and strength and money in an effort to benefit the trade at large.

Very truly yours,
A. D. F. RANDOLPH & CO.

MORE REINFORCEMENTS FOR "SUBSCRIBER."

To the Editor of the Publishers' Weekly:

I think I must have the misfortune to be a fellow-townsman of your original "Subscriber." If not, it may be some comfort to him to know that there is at least one other place calling itself "large" where he would not be any more likely to meet with success in his search for books than he is in his present habitation.

Early in January of this year, there appeared in the daily papers of the town where I live—which boasts of several publishing houses, several "large" bookstores, and many smaller shops where books are sold—an advertisement of Appleton's reprint of Haeckel's "History of Creation," accompanied in one of the papers by a "review" notice of considerable length. Being at the time on the point of sending to my London agent for a copy of the English edition, I thought I would first look at Appleton's reprint with a view of seeing if it were gotten up in sufficiently attractive form. Accordingly, some days after the notice had appeared, I went down street to that one of the "large" stores where experience had taught me that books were sometimes to be found, and asked for a copy. I can not say I was disappointed to learn that they did not have it; I expected that. But I was agreeably surprised to be told that they had had two copies, both of which were sold. I then went to another store, the proprietors of which have the honor of being Appleton's agents, and there asked for the book, being waited on by one of the proprietors. His puzzled look assured me that he then and there heard of the name of the book for the first time. He very politely, however, made me an offer of a book having as much relation to the one I asked for as the "Winter in Cuba" bore to the "Summa" of St. Thos. Aquinas. I explained at length that the book I wanted was an English translation of a German work, republished by Appleton, price $5, advertised in the daily papers. Still the self-possession of the proprietor did not desert him, and I was blandly informed (I should explain, en parenthèse, that not having occasion to buy largely of "papeterie," or of women's gewgaws, I seldom go into this shop, and so was quite unknown) that these advertisements were constantly put in, in advance of the appearance of the work, but that as soon as it was issued he would have it.

In self-justification I explained that the book was out, and that his neighbor over the way had already had and sold two copies; whereupon reference was made to the current number of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, which I suppose attention to business had not left time to glance at, and there on the first page, in fine, large type, was an advertisement of the very book I wanted.

If this should meet "Subscriber's" eyes he will surely know that, if not a fellow-townsman, I am at all events a FELLOW-SUFFERER.

THE "LARGE BUYER" QUESTION.

ANN ARBOR, MICH., Feb. 23, 1876.

To the Editor of the Publishers' Weekly:

And now it is of Boston that we complain. One of our student customers, who has bought goods of us for three years, and whom we might justly consider and treat as a "large buyer" but for a local agreement binding us to sell all college text-books at list price, excepting medical and chemical books at ten per cent off, leaves our store and sends his order for some twenty-five dollars' worth of books to Thompson of Boston, who gives him twenty per cent on his entire list. Is Boston so poor and small a book town that it need consider twenty-five dollars a large sale, and take a good customer from a small store away out West?

BOOKS RECEIVED.

SELECT BRITISH ESSAYISTS: THE SPECTATOR, by Addison and Steele. With an Introductory Essay and Biographical Sketches by John Habberton. (G. P. Putnam's Sons.) Only selected papers will be given in the little volumes of this series of the great essayists. The series is designed to place these voluminous writers in such a readable form that they may go into the hands of every one. To make the series a generally popular one, great care has been taken in the selections, so that nothing of any sterling merit may be omitted which either illustrates the style of the writer or offers thoughts or ideas of permanent value. The series should meet with a great success, as it fills a want long felt in literature; for, while every one feels the necessity of making the acquaintance of the essayists, it has heretofore needed a great stock of moral courage to attack them. Sq. 12mo, cloth, $1.25. The entire get-up of the book is noticable for its neatness and beauty.

WORDS IN SEASON FOR THE INQUIRER AND THE INQUIRY-MEETING. (A. D. F. Randolph & Co.) Brief sketches of the addresses made by Rev. Stephen H. Tyng, Rev. John Hall, Rev. William M. Taylor, Rev. George H. Hepworth, and others, during the preparatory meetings held in this city to aid in the great spiritual work of Messrs. Moody and Sankey. 40 cents.

BUDDHA AND BUDDHISM, by Charles D. B. Mills. (James Miller.) This clear and unbiassed exposition of the life and doctrine of the Indian saint can not fail to attract attention. The morality and humanity of the religion he taught, divested of the idolatrous element it later became imbued with, and its effects upon the western world, are traced out in a broad and catholic spirit, which seeks to do ample justice to the spirit as well as the facts of the subject. 12mo, cloth, $1.50.

WE have to acknowledge from Osgood & Co. Nathaniel Hawthorne's "Passages from the American Note-Books," in two volumes, in the new popular edition, uniform with "Little Classics." $1.25 per volume.

E. STEIGER has added to his admirable collection of catalogues No. 2, "A Catalogue o Romances, Novels, and Tales in the German Language;" No. 11, Part 3, "German Language and Literature;" No. 17, "German Books and Periodicals in the Departments of Engineering, Mechanics, Architecture, Mining, etc.;" No. 21, "German Books and Periodicals in the Departments of Jurisprudence, Politics, Statistics, etc.;" No. 24, "A Selection of the Best Plays in the German Language."

CABIN AND PLANTATION SONGS AS SUNG BY THE HAMPTON STUDENTS, arranged by Thomas P. Fenner. (G. P. Putnam's Sons.) This effort to place in a permanent form the strange, weird music of slavery is a very laudable one. It is well that it should not altogether pass away and be lost and forgotten, as it is full of an odd beauty and pathos well worth study. 8vo, paper, 40 c.

TEMPERANCE LEAFLETS: PACKET NO. 2. (National Temperance Society.) This little packet contains eight tracts, of sixteen pages each, written by T. S. Arthur. They are printed on colored paper, illustrated, and make altogether a little book of 128 pages. 10 cents. We have also received from the same publishers a collection of their temperance stories, by M. E. Winslow, "A More Excellent Way," etc. 16mo, cloth, $1.

ASKED OF GOD, and THE WATCH-TOWER IN THE WILDERNESS, by Anna Shipton. (T. Y. Crowell.) These two little works are well known among the best devotional literature, and are just the kind of reading needed at the present season of Lent. Each, 16mo, paper, 25 c.; cloth, 85 c.

BRIEF BIOGRAPHIES, edited by Thomas Wentworth Higginson. FRENCH POLITICAL LEADERS, by Edward King. (G. P. Putnam's Sons.) Graphic and picturesque sketches are here presented of the present political leaders of France. The writer does not confine himself to mere dry facts, but admirably illustrates the characters of his subjects by familiar details and spirited anecdotes. The volume is not only most desirable and interesting reading, but also a treasure-house of information, most reliable as to every detail, and very succinctly written. This series met with a most favorable reception on the publication of its initial volume, "English Statesmen," which has been followed up and retained by the succeeding volumes. Sq. 12mo, cloth, $1.50.

PAUSANIAS THE SPARTAN, by the late Lord Lytton. (Harper & Brothers) Disappointing as it may be to the general reader to find this work unfinished, the world can not but be thankful to the present Lord Lytton that he has rescued it from oblivion, as it presents, as it now stands, one of the finest characterizations we have ever had from Bulwer's pen. Bulwer began the story some fifteen or twenty years before his death, and devoted considerable time and study to the details of it. His son supposed that it was far advanced toward completion when he died; but the most patient search has failed to unearth any more than the present unsatisfactory fragment. Of course its interest as a mere novel is lost; but, as a study of life, especially political life in Greece some two thousand years ago, it stands among Bulwer's finest historical pictures. It opens in Byzantium, its hero being Pausanias, the Regent of Sparta. The Harpers issue this in two editions —in their Library edition, 12mo, cloth, $1, and in Library of Select Novels, 8vo, paper, 50 c.

THE UNSEEN WORLD, by John Fiske. (James R. Osgood & Co.) These essays, by the author of "Myths and Myth-Makers," touch upon a variety of subjects, the title of the book being the title of the initial paper alone. Not only theology and science are discussed, but music, art, literature, philosophy, and history, and all with an intelligence and clearness which make the volume a most charming addition to the best literature of the day. There are fourteen essays in all. The names of a few of them are, "Nathan the Wise," "Longfellow's Dante," "Draper on Science and Religion," "The Christ of Dogma," "Paine's 'St. Peter,'" "A Philosophy of Art," etc., etc. 12mo, cloth, $2.

A MARRIAGE IN HIGH LIFE, by Octave Feuillet, translated by Celia Logan. (Porter & Coates.) The husband and wife in this story go through the stereotyped changes supposed to be the necessary attendants of a fashionable marriage in France. They begin with mutual love, but too much fashionable life separates them, and they both draw up only just on the verge of wrong-doing. The book offers a clever picture of French life and character, and is written in a very vivacious style. Belonging to the "International Series of New Approved Novels." 12mo, cloth, $1.25.

A TREATISE ON THE MEANING OF THE DERIVATIVES OF THE GREEK ROOT BAΦ, by Hiram Carleton. (A. Williams & Co.) In a brief space, this little book very thoroughly discusses the meaning of words derived from the Greek root BAΦ, the argument going strongly against immersion. 30 c.

A HUNDRED YEARS AGO, by Charles W. E. Siegel. (Daily and Weekly Examiner, Lancaster.) "A Hundred Years Ago," the introductory poem of this volume, is a number of sonnets breathing a most patriotic spirit. The rest of the book is divided into "Early Poems," among which there are some verses of considerable merit: "Occasional Poems;" "Under the Willows," mostly tributes to departed friends; "Soul-Breathings," and "Miscellaneous Poems." They all display considerable facility in versification, and a refined imagination. 12mo, cloth, $1.50.

THE BLOOD AND BREATH, by J. E. Frobisher. (Goodyear's Rubber Curler Co.) Prof. Frobisher is a well-known and accomplished elocutionist. This little book is sent forth by him, that every one may, by using the exercises set down in it, strengthen both lungs and limbs. It contains some excellent selections for the training of the voice, and much good advice as to matters of health. It is specially designed to accompany "Goodyear's Pocket Gymnasium," a new system of physical exercises, which will be found fully illustrated in this book. 12mo, cloth, 50 cents; paper, 25 cents.

NAIL-HEADS; OR, HELPS FOR PRIMARY TEACHERS, by Mrs. Geo. Partridge, with an introduction by J. Bennet Tyler. (Fairbanks & Co.) A little manual prepared by one who has had twenty years' experience in the teaching and management of primary Sunday-schools. It contains opening and closing exercises for Sunday-schools, a number of pleasing hymns suitable for children, and a series of chapters of religious instruction, admirably adapted to a child's understanding. The book can be recommended highly to all teachers of very young children. 18mo, cloth, 60 cents.

TEMPERANCE AND EDUCATION, by Mark Hopkins, D.D. (National Temperance Society.) This tiny pamphlet of thirty pages discourses about social drinking customs, and how they bear upon the educational interests of a country. 10 cents.

NEW HELPS TO A HOLY LENT, by the Rt. Rev. F. D. Huntington, D.D. (E. P. Dutton & Co.) A series of short readings of prose and poetry, partly original and partly selected from English authors, introduced by a few sentences from the Scriptures, and designed to serve as an aid and help for every day during the forthcoming season. The book is on the same plan as the author's former work, "Helps to a Holy Lent," and will be found equally as valuable and suggestive. 12mo, cloth, $1.50.

OUR LORD'S THREE RAISINGS FROM THE DEAD, by the Rev. Hugh Macmillan. (E. P. Dutton & Co.) The three greatest miracles of our Lord: the raising of the daughter of Jairus, the widow of Nain's son, and of Lazarus, are here made the subject of three discourses intended to instruct and comfort the afflicted. A book particularly appropriate for Easter-tide. 12mo, cloth, $1.50.

ON ALCOHOL, by Benjamin W. Richardson. (National Temperance Society.) As these lectures only aim to impart knowledge on sound scientific principles, respecting the evils resulting from the use of spirituous liquors, they offer the very strongest kind of an argument against intemperance. The facts, as stated in the very clearest and plainest language, possess a force that no "special pleading" can ever attain on this subject. The society has done well to add it to its list. 12mo, cloth, $1.

OBITUARY.

IT is with regret that we have to announce the death of Edward Irish, for a number of years connected with the stationery trade as travelling salesman. He died at the Lindel Hotel, St. Louis, last week, after a short illness, and while making his spring trip for Henry Levy & Co., pocket-book manufacturers, New-York. Mr. Irish has been connected as salesman with a number of prominent houses in New-York and Chicago, among them J. M. W. Jones, W. B. Keen, Cooke & Co., Crew & Ramshow, Willy Wallach, and for the past two years with Henry Levy & Co. He was well known in the Eastern and Western States, and leaves many friends in the trade to mourn his loss.

STATIONERY NOTES

MILLS & CO., Des Moines, Iowa, have just issued a handsome Centennial postal card with advertisement on face, and a space left for an address; on the back is a beautiful illustration of the Centennial Buildings. They offer this as an advertising medium at $12 per thousand.

THE H. Granger Blank-Book and Stationery Co. will open on La Salle street, near Monroe street, with a paid-up capital stock of $25,000. The company are said to be all lawyers excepting Mr. H. Granger.

ANTOINE'S INKS.—The new "Modern Ink," unchangeable jet-black. is particularly adapted for the use of insurance companies, banks, lawyers, and for all legal records. It flows freely, is non-corrosive, writes jet-black, and never fades; does not thicken or mould, and acids will not remove it. Hamilton & Adams, 95 William street, New-York, agents for the United States.

JUDGE PRATT, of the City Court of Louisville, Ky., in his recent charge to the Grand Jury, called their attention to the law relating to the sale of playing-cards. The section reads as follows:

"Before selling playing-cards in this State, the owner, his agent, or the vendor thereof, shall obtain of the County Clerk, in the county in which he proposes to sell, a license authorizing him to sell playing-cards. He shall execute to the Commonwealth a bond, with security, that he will pay to the County Clerk at the end of each three months, twenty-five cents on each deck of playing-cards he may have sold within the last preceding three months, and also that he will file with the clerk a statement upon oath of the number of packs sold. Any violation of this section shall subject the party so offending to pay a fine of $50 for each offence."

The judge remarked that the law was a new one, to which the attention of the grand jury had probably never been called before, and added that a number of witnesses would appear before the jury to testify in regard to persons selling playing-cards without a license so to do. The law is one that affects a large number of persons, as playing-cards are pretty generally kept by retail dealers, and those interested would do well to familiarize themselves with the matter at once.

W. W. HARDING, Philadelphia, will issue a new catalogue, comprising a new and elegant line of pulpit and family Bibles. This house is noted for its style and taste, displayed in the manufacture of Bibles, and we have no doubt that this addition to their numerous lines will be very desirable.

NEW GOODS FROM ABROAD.

THE BOAT ALBUM.—This article is of a handsome pattern, with a well-cut block on the side artistically embossed in black, gold, and colors. It is likely to go well.

"ASLEEP AND AWAKE" is the title of a well-executed reproduction in the best style of chromo, by Miss Anderson, published by M. T. Dupuy, of Paris, size 13½ in. by 10½ in.

PRESENTATION CIGAR-CASE, PURSE, AND MATCH-BOX.—This gentleman's companion is a good presentation line. It is made of calf, hand-worked, with floral designs in colored silk on the sides, and mounted in a gilt frame.

MR. L. B. BERTRAM, inventor and patentee of the Mysterious Pen, New-Wandsworth, has invented and patented an improvement for damping copying-paper in copying-books, by which means neither water-well nor brush is required, the entire being in one and always ready.

NOTES ON THE ROAD.

LOUISVILLE, KY.

I feel assured that very few of the book and stationery trade are fully aware of the importance of some of the Western and Southern publishing houses.

John P. Morton & Co. occupy a large building on Main street, and have been established since 1825. The former firm was Morton & Griswold. The present firm is composed of John P. Morton, John B. Bangs, Alexander Griswold, and Howard M. Griswold.

They publish about seventy popular text-books, which are used extensively in many cities in the South and West.

They also print and issue weekly The Louisville Medical News, a journal of medicine and surgery, and a monthly magazine, entitled Home and School, a journal of popular education. They have sixteen printing-presses—"Cottrell's" and "Hoe's"—and employ about fifty hands in this department, under the direction of Mr. W. T. Langtroy.

The bindery has about fifty more employed in its separate branches. Mr. W. J. Adams is foreman.

Over forty girls are in the sewing and folding-rooms. A wood-engraving department has just been added.

Mr. H E. Hewes is manager of the large stationery department of this house, and attends to the buying of all goods.

Terrell, Deitz & Co., manufacturers of blank-books and dealers in foreign and domestic stationery, etc., have been occupying their present quarters about twelve years. They have just issued "The American Copying-Pin," an article adapted for dampening the paper in a copying-book, which costs less than a brush, does the work more quickly and better, and is very durable. A blotter is not required to take off the surplus moisture, and single copies may be made without the aid of a press. Samples sent on application. Retail price, $1 each.

Maxwell & Co., stationers and booksellers, is an old established house. Their line of pocket-books is probably the largest and best assorted in the city. Maxwell's patent feed-gaugers, for a platen printing-press, is an article used to supersede the old style of pins. It may be applied to any style of press, and for the purpose intended—that of securing a perfect register—is a want long desired. It is regulated by a screw, the sheet being adjusted to its proper position by this means. Price, 75 cents each. The price is saved in a short time by the avoidance of all injury to the tympan.

Bradley & Gilbert, booksellers, stationers, printers, binders, and manufacturers of the blue and white bonnet-board, are at the corner of Third avenue and Green street.

They supply the State offices with blank-books of their own workmanship, and do a large printing business for the railroads. They manufacture also a large line of paper-boxes, and employ about 75 hands.

One of their specialties is the manufacturing of blue and white bonnet-board, which they sell to the jobbing trade at low prices. Samples sent on application. This firm will make an attractive display of their own blank-books at teh Centennial.

H. J. Dake has just moved into his new store in Schurmann Block. and displays a full and excellent line of stationery and books.

W. Scott Glore has a large and well-arranged line of every thing salable in the business. Mr. Glore has returned from a short trip East, where he has been buying a line of goods to establish his "Southern Base-Ball Emporium." This is on Tyler Block, a few doors from his stationery store, and elegantly fitted up with a large stock of base-ball implements, etc., and a fine reading-room and billiard-hall at the rear. Mr. Glore deserves great credit in the good taste displayed in fitting up and arranging this new enterprise. C. S. P.

PERSONAL NOTES.

THE names of Mr. Richard Grant White and Mr. J. Carson Brevoort are mentioned in connection with the librarianship of the Astor.

THE gentleman connected with Messrs. Turnbull Brothers, Baltimore, who stood second on the honor roll for the biographical list is Mr. John W. Winks, Jr., and not a Mr. Wints, as we had unfortunately misprinted it.

BUSINESS NOTES.

THE copartnership of Messrs. Claxton, Remsen & Haffelfinger, of Philadelphia, has expired by limitation, and the business will be continued at the well-known Market street establishment by Edmund Claxton and Charles C. Haffelfinger.

MESSRS. D. LOTHROP & Co., lately of Cornhill, Boston, have removed into their spacious and handsome new store, corner of Franklin and Hawley streets, in the new book centre, diagonally opposite Lee & Shepard's store. The floor is 40 by 100, and Mr. Lothrop will considerably extend his stock in entering it. He proposes that the store shall be a complete Bible repository, having the most general assortment to be found, while the stock of juveniles will also be something exceptional. He will keep also some stock of miscellaneous books, principally the new ones, and will make a specialty of the finest stationery.

MARTIN TAYLOR, of Buffalo, is effecting a settlement with his creditors, twenty per cent being reported as the basis. His chief creditors are desirous of his continuing, as they consider him too valuable a man to lose.

IT is stated that the creditors of A. W. Lovering, of Boston, are compromising at fifteen cents. Mr. A. F. Graves, a veteran member of the trade, with whom there is hearty sympathy, is finding some difficulty in settling at fifty. The settlement with W. F. Gill & Co. having been opposed by large creditors, the matter has been referred back by the court to the Register in Bankruptcy.

LITERARY AND TRADE NOTES.

IT is a dull spring for burglars, else they would not go into the book business. Last month burglars entered the store of Stevens & Co., Lewiston, Me., and stole $500 worth of gold pens, etc., and the next week, the bookstores of Henry T. Clauder and Schwartz & Weaver, Bethlehem, Pa., were also visited by these gentry. Mr. Clauder writes: "The robbery of a bookstore I considered of such a rare occurrence that gold pen stock was reasonably secure without special precaution to protect it. From inclosed, however, you will notice that the guild is not exempt from contributing to the assets of burglars."

MAURICE JOKAI, the eminent Hungarian writer, is about publishing a novel with the title "God is one God," which will bring out the early history of the Unitarians and the Unitarian faith in Transylvania. An English and French translation will appear simultaneously with the Hungarian original.

MESSRS. HENRY S. KING & Co., of London, have in press a translation by M. D'Anvers of M. Lesseps' work, "Letters, Journals, and Documents for a History of the Suez Canal."

MR. JAMES COLSTON, Treasurer of the city of Edinburgh, and head of the firm of Messrs. Colston & Son, of that city, is engaged on a "History of Printing in Scotland." The work will be published in a few months.

A NEW and enlarged edition of Dr. Samuel Osgood's "Hearth-Stone: Home Life in our Cities," is to be issued by E. P. Dutton & Co. This book has gone through several editions, and has been for some time out of print. The new edition will have an essay entitled "A Hundred Years of Housekeeping," with thoughts upon the tendencies of household life in America within the century.

THE first edition of the "Life of George Ticknor," says the Boston Transcript, has sold like a bewitching novel. Dr. Shelton Mackenzie seems to have hit pretty near the mark in saying that it is "about ten times as instructive and entertaining as 'Crabb Robinson's Diary,' and most readers will pleasurably remember how good that was."

A NEW volume by Miss Yonge, "The Christmas Mummers, and other Stories," has been published abroad.

THE Report of the Church Congress, held in Philadelphia last November, is now issued in a neat and attractive form by the publisher, Thomas Whittaker.

A STORY is told in the Godwin book, just published by Roberts, of Lamb's letter to Godwin, when the latter, as publisher, suggested alterations in Lamb's book: "As an author I say to you, an author, Touch not my work. As to a bookseller I say, Take the work such as it is, or refuse it. . . . As to a friend, I say, Don't plague yourself and me with nonsensical objections; I assure you I will not alter a word."

MR. EDWARD JENKINS, author of "Ginx's Baby," has at last begun the serial publication of his Coolie novel, entitled "Lutchmee and Dilloo," announced several years ago.

THE third volume of Lanfrey's "History of Napoleon the First" (in English translation) is promised by Macmillan & Co. for early issue.

YACHTING IN THE ARCTIC SEAS;

Or, Notes of Five Voyages of Sport and Discovery in the neighborhood of Spitzbergen and Novaya Zemlya. By James Lamont, author of "Seasons with the Sea-Horses." With numerous full-page illustrations, by William Livesay, M.D. 8vo, cloth, gilt, with maps and numerous illustrations, $6.75.

"Mr. Lamont has taken a share, distinctively his own, in the work of Arctic discovery, and the value of his labors as an 'amateur explorer' is to be attributed to the systematic manner in which he pursued his investigations, no less than to his scientific qualifications for the task. . . . The handsome volume is full of valuable and interesting information to the sportsman and naturalist—it would be difficult to say which of the two will enjoy it most."—Scotsman.

The Literary News

A Monthly Journal of Current Literature.

PUBLISHED BY

(Space allotted for Dealer's Imprint.)

MARCH, 1876.

TO THE RETAIL BOOK TRADE.

Retail Booksellers, News Agents, and Dealers generally, who desire a handy, cheap, and profitable advertising medium for the latest books in the market, will find the best adapted to that purpose.

The Literary News

This publication (now in its fifth year) has reached a circulation of over 25,000 copies, and is used by hundreds of booksellers, from Maine to California.

It will be issued as heretofore, at the beginning of every month, with not less than eight pages, embracing Editorial Notes, Literary Intelligence, a full list, compiled expressly for its columns from the records of the PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY, containing the titles and prices of the PRINCIPAL BOOKS PUBLISHED DURING THE PREVIOUS MONTH and announcements of Forthcoming Works for the Current Month, so classified as to show at a glance all the new publications in the various departments of literature, and one page of general advertisements, which will not conflict with the interest of the trade. It will be printed on tinted paper like previous editions, but of superior quality, and being of light texture, it can be sent with any book, magazine, paper, letter, circular, etc., with a small increase of postage.

It is certain that dealers who will adopt this cheap and effective mode for advertising their establishments, will find themselves amply repaid in a short time, and we have the testimony of many dealers who have not only increased the sales from their counters, but have found the orders for books not in stock highly remunerative.

Terms for Editions with Imprint, invariably payable in advance.

OF

D. APPLETON & CO.,

549 and 551 Broadway, New-York.

The Cotton States,

IN THE SPRING AND SUMMER of 1875.

By CHARLES NORDHOFF,

Author of "California for Health," "Politics for Young Americans."

1 vol., 8vo. Paper Covers, 50 cents.

"It is full, from beginning to end, of information on a most vital question, and will be read with the greatest interest."—Worcester Palladium.

"His showing is most unfavorable in many respects to the Republican politicians of the South and their administrations, but it is not more favorable to the cause and conduct of the Southern democracy."—Springfield Republican.

Geier-Wally.

A TALE OF THE TYROL.

From the German of WILHELMINA VON HILLERN. 1 vol., cloth, red edges, $1.25; paper covers, 50 cents.

"A remarkable novel is the Tyrolean story of 'Geier-Wally,' translated from the German. The scene is placed in the Tyrolean Alps, and the state of society it exhibits is something strange to our civilized conceptions. The story is told with a great deal of power, and with a womanly enthusiasm which renders it quite interesting."—New-York Sun.

THE FIFTH EDITION OF

Mrs. Limber's Raffle;

OR,

A CHURCH FAIR AND ITS VICTIMS.

A SHORT STORY.

1 vol., 18mo, paper covers, 50 cents; cloth, 75 cents.

"Not for many a day have we so enjoyed a story, as a little paper covered book published by the Appletons. The author is not named; but the work is admirable, timely, and important. It should be read by every apologist for these pious frauds, church fairs, in which games of chance are permitted."—Methodist Recorder.

NEW BOOKS FOR LEARNING FRENCH.

Rational Method,

Following Nature, Step by Step, to learn how to Read, Hear, Speak, and Write French. By CLAUDE MARCEL. 1 vol., 18mo, 50 cents.

"Rejecting traditionary routine, and following nature, step by step, this method, based upon the constitution of man and that of language, dispenses at the outset with grammar exercises, versions, dictations, mnemonics, and, in a great measure, with the use of a dictionary and the advice of a teacher. It is composed of two simple operations: familiarizing the ear and the eye with a language; then imitating correct examples, in order to learn how to speak and write it."—Extract from Preface.

French Children at Home.

An Introduction to "Comment on Parle à Paris; or, French as Spoken in Paris." By Madame de PEYRAC, author of "Comment on Parle à Paris." 1 vol., 12mo, 90 cents.

"This work we now offer our young students will, we trust, be both useful and amusing. Our object is to introduce them into the home circles of their little French friends across the great ocean.

"The Marcel system, which is now thoroughly appreciated, has been followed through these pages, which we have endeavored to render still more attractive by introducing the characters of 'Comment on Parle à Paris' in their childhood."—Extract from Preface.

IMPORTANT BOOKS ON CURRENCY AND BANKING.

Currency and Banking.

By BONAMY PRICE, Professor of Political Economy in the University of Oxford. 1 vol., 12mo, cloth, $1.50.

"This work is founded on the view of Currency and Banking taken in the 'Lectures on the Principles of Currency,' delivered at Oxford. I have met with no reason which, in my opinion, requires that the views therein expressed should be altered."—From Author's Preface.

Money and the Mechanism of Exchange.

By W. STANLEY JEVONS, M.A., F.R.S., Professor of Logic and Political Economy. 1 vol., 12mo, cloth, $1.75.

Forming Vol. 17 of the International Scientific Series.

"He offers what a clear-sighted, cool-headed scientific student has to say on the nature, properties, and natural laws of money, without regard to local interest or natural bias. His work is popularly written, and every page is replete with solid information of a kind that is just now lamentably needed by multitudes of our people who are victimized by the grossest fallacies."—Popular Science Monthly.

New Edition, Revised and Improved.

ART:

Its Laws and the Reasons for Them.

Collected, considered, and arranged for general and educational purposes, by SAMUEL P. LONG, Counselor at Law, Student of the English Royal Academy, and Pupil of the late Gilbert Stuart Newton, Esq., R.A. 8vo, cloth, with steel plates and wood-engravings, $2.

Mr. GEO. S. HILLARD says:

"It shows a wide range of reading and observation, the fruits of which are presented with sound judgment and good taste. It has the merit of being popular, and not yet superficial, and thus is very well adapted both for purposes of education and general reading. I do not know of any work in the language that fills the place which this is intended to fill, and does it worthily and well."

From Prof. A. P. PEABODY:

"It seems to me a work of great intrinsic merit and value, and of peculiar worth to the public. . . . It shows a thorough acquaintance with the whole ground, careful reflection, discriminating taste, and a just appreciation of the wants it is designed to satisfy."

Headley's Historical Library.

By Rev. P. C. Headley. Six vols., 12mo, illustrated, per vol., $1.50.

THE ISLAND OF FIRE; or, A Thousand Years of the Old Northmen's Home, 874–1874. The annals and wonderful scenery of Iceland, including the "Millennial" Celebration of August, 1874.

"The graphic pen of the author is well adapted to the portrayal of a theme at once so rich and romantic as Iceland, and his broad range of topics, his vivid descriptions and the enthusiasm with which he devotes himself to his subject, conspire to lend to this volume far more than ordinary attractions." —New-York Evangelist.

LIFE OF NAPOLEON BONAPARTE. With portrait.

LIFE OF THE EMPRESS JOSEPHINE. With elegant steel portrait.

"This is by far the most interesting history of Josephine we have yet seen. Recourse has been had to the best sources for materials, and they are combined and put together with skill and judgment. The style is flowing, elegant, and often eloquent."—Washington Union.

LIFE OF LAFAYETTE. With portrait.

WOMEN OF THE BIBLE.

"It contains nineteen descriptive biographical sketches, arranged in chronological order, including nearly all the distinguished women of the sacred annals, and forming an outline of Scripture history. The illustrations are from original designs, and are numerous and appropriate. No ordinary powers of imagination and expression are shown in the vivid and picturesque descriptions; and the fine portraitures of character rivet the interest, and set forth the Scripture delineations in a stronger light. In this respect the book has no rival."—Home Journal, New-York.

ALWAYS CONSULT

for the information of officers and members of Legislatures, Conventions, Societies, Corporations, Orders, etc., in the practical governing and membership of all such bodies, according to the Parliamentary Law and Practice in the United States. By William S. Robinson, "Warrington," Clerk of the House of Representatives of Massachusetts, from 1862 to 1873. 75c.

Among the number of recommendations from the most distinguished men in this country, we now append the following from the late Hon. CHARLES SUMNER:

"COOLIDGE HOUSE, Nov. 24, 1873.

"Gentlemen—I have read Mr. Robinson's little book on Public Assemblies and the Rules for their Government. I find it clear, pointed, and instructive.

"Yours truly, CHARLES SUMNER."

Hon. JAMES G. BLAINE says:

"AUGUSTA, Me., Nov. 16, 1875.

"WILLIAM S. ROBINSON, ESQ.,

"Dear Sir—I have very carefully examined your brief Manual of Parliamentary Procedure, and I consider it singularly perspicuous, practical, and convenient. The system of Parliamentary Law is not broad nor deep—but is very sharp and very exact, and all its parts hang together with an admirable consistency. You have presented it with a clearness which a mere theoretical knowledge could never impart, but which your long practice in connection with a Legislative body has enabled you to acquire. Your book will be especially valuable, not merely to Legislative assemblies, but to all municipal bodies; and indeed to all Societies where proceedings are governed by law and order.

"Very respectfully, J. G. BLAINE.

A POPULAR HISTORY OF OUR COUNTRY.

YOUNG FOLKS'

History of the United States.

By Thos. Wentworth Higginson. With over 100 illustrations. $1.50.

The theory of the book can be briefly stated; it is, that American History is in itself one of the most attractive of all subjects, and can be made interesting to old and young, by being presented in a simple, clear, and graphic way. In this book only such names and dates are introduced as are necessary to secure a clear and definite thread of connected incident in the mind of the reader; and the space thus saved is devoted to illustrative traits and incidents, and the details of daily living. By this means it is believed that much more can be conveyed, even of the philosophy of history, than where this is overlaid and hidden by a mass of mere statistics.

"Compact, clear, and accurate. . . . . This unpretending little book is the best general history of the United States we have seen."—The Nation.

"The book is so written that every child old enough to read history at all will understand and like it, and persons of the fullest information and purest taste will admire it."—Boston Daily Advertiser.

"It is marvelous to note how happily Mr. Higginson, in securing an amazing compactness by his condensation, has avoided alike superficiality and dullness."—Boston Transcript.
